Howard Crofoot Announcement: Howard stated that some members would remember his son, Henry, as a child back in the days when he would help with cheese curds and other club projects. Although this promotion is confirmed, it will probably be 2020 before he is 'pinned' and receives complete recognition. Congrats were extended to Howard.

Annual Holiday Party: President Schambow reminded the members tonight is the night, 5:30 at the Elmo Club and reminded them of the white elephant gift exchange.

Dubuque Fighting Saints Outing: This will take place this Sunday with the bus leaving from the Platteville Middle School parking lot on Madison Street at 2:00 PM. OI Centennial Event: Update on events being planned:

Promo Picture: President Schambow shared with the members the picture of our participation on the OI Centennial Event. Optimist Members, UW-P wrestlers and Jamie Collins assisted in making this possible. President Schambow also mentioned that the picture was included in a tweet from Optimist International. SWIS District Governor, Maureen Crombie also complimented our club on a job well done.

Program: Joan Bahr had the pleasure of introducing our speaker, Ellen Wiegman. Originally from Virginia, Ellen moved to the midwest for college, married and eventually settled here. Prior to choosing to home school her six children, Ellen taught in a Montessori School environment. The Montessori Method of education, developed by Maria Montessori, is a child-centered educational approach based on scientific observations of children. Montessori's method has been used for over 100 years in many parts of the world. Ellen has since been homeschooling her six children for 15 years.

Ellen covered some of the qualifying factors for home schooling, one being they report directly to the Department of Education and they are required to have 713 hours of education per year. It is also necessary for parents that home school to dedicate the hours necessary to meet the guidelines as well as continue to grow their educational background to meet changing standards.

Ellen shared the various types of homeschooling providing summaries with each, as follows:

*Traditional *Online *Classical *DVD's

*Unit studies *Literature based

*Unschooling

In addition to the above types of homeschooling, Ellen covered procedures for high school and preparing for college. Research is completed on curriculum as well as entrance requirements.

Ellen explained her daily routine, starting with children responsibilities in the morning, followed by the start of the educational part of the day. Ellen stated that locally there are 300 home school groups. Q & A followed.

We enjoyed this opportunity to learn more about the ongoing popularity of homeschooling.
